Carlisle, Pa. – The Cumberland County Board of Commissioners announced yesterday that Robert Aims has been hired as the Administrator of Claremont Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. The center has been under the operation of an interim administrator since March of this year. Aims will begin his new role on Monday, August 6, 2018.

Aims, from East Berlin, has a bachelor's in Health Planning and Administration, a master's in Business Administration and is licensed to operate nursing homes in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New York and Virginia. He has worked in the nursing/health care industries since 1974, serving in various roles including administration, risk management, training, executive administration and executive director.

“Robert brings a wealth of direct nursing home administration experience and employee building skills to the County, which will be great assets to Claremont moving forward,” said Vince DiFilippo, chairman of the Board of Commissioners.

As the Administrator, Aims will plan, direct and control the overall operation of Claremont, and carry out its objectives of providing quality care and service to all residents, in accordance with established federal, state and local policies, procedures and guidelines.
